Pikes Peak Firearms Coalition Stands Behind Jane Norton

Colorado Springs, July 25, 2010 – The Pikes Peak Firearms Coalition Board of Directors and Political Action Committee restates its endorsement of Jane Norton for United States Senator in response to the inaccurate accusation by a so-called “pro-gun rights group” comparing Norton to Sarah Brady.

Paul Paradis, Steering Committee Chair for the Pikes Peak Firearms Coalition Political Action Committee has issued the following statement:

Okay, the latest attack by Buck thru one of his minions claims Jane Norton is equivalent to Sarah Brady because she feels it is unethical to take money from someone who has been convicted in federal court. Greg Golyansky pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor and can no longer sell guns. A victim by an overbearing government bureaucracy? Maybe, then why did he plead guilty? One of the greatest problems facing those who took deals is they feel like victims. The question is, who put the victims in that position? I am no friend of ATF or their policies but the pleadings for the misdemeanor are recorded. Mr. Golyansky please get the records and publish them.

The background known by the public is out. Was Buck’s conduct unethical in this case (you might ask Buck’s boss at the time, the US Attorney for Colorado, John Suthers, how he reacted to Buck’s handling of this case)? Why take money from a person that your office tried to convict? Why is it there are so few Colorado donors to his campaign? Is he so desperate for money that it does not matter where he gets his money from? Are these the values that you want from your next U.S. Senator? Sorry, but I believe image and integrity do count.

So back to the “Jane is the next closest thing to Hitler” type statement. Aren’t you somewhat startled by the ludicrous jump? Do they think that we are that stupid or rushed into panic by the ranting of losers at the last days of a primary election. Let’s go back to basics. Jane worked in a gun store growing up, she is aware of overstepping bureaucratic government agencies that often make life hard on citizens and business alike. That is why she is running. Jane Norton has campaigned that losing your constitutional rights for a misdemeanor is wrong. Something we have never heard from her opponent and that would give help to Mr. Golyansky. When President Reagan wanted a conservative to help cut back government, who did President Reagan call? Jane Norton - who has now put together teams of experts, business men and women from all over the state to advise her on the many different areas that she wants to change. This includes putting BATFE in their place.

As a person, who for more than 30 years has worked hard for gun owners and citizens in Colorado, I am proud to support Jane Norton and I know she will fulfill the aspirations of those in our state and country who want some plain old common sense to be brought back into the government. I do not want to love my country and fear my government. I want to love my country and government because it is sensible, right, and just. I am proud to be one the many advisers to Jane Norton on small business and firearms issues who believes in and supports a Colorado winner and peoples' champion, Jane Norton.

The Pikes Peak Firearms Coalition stands behind its endorsement of Jane Norton.
